Cosmoprof North America offers two exhibit space options:

Raw Space (minimum 24 square meters)

A raw space booth contains nothing but the concrete. You are responsible for building the space to your liking. All raw space must have perimeter walls and the entire surface space needs to be carpeted. Raw space is appropriate for companies who already own a booth. Please note that you must submit a photo of the completed booth to show management for approval.

Ready Stand (minimum 12 square meters)

When you purchase a ready stand booth, the booth is already set up for you. All you need to do is bring products and promotions you wish to feature. You can also bring pop-up signs, banners and the like. The minimum size available is 12 square meters (approximately 129 square feet).

Please indicate the size and type of booth space you are interested in by pavilion:

Once your Request for Space has been received, Show Organizers will contact you with the official contract and booth placement. Show Organizers make the final decision about where products best fit into show categories and pavilions. Booth assignment is the exclusive responsibility of the Show Organizers and takes place at their discretion. Any special requests expressed by the Exhibitor shall be construed to be of a purely indicative nature and may in no way be interpreted either as generating any commitment on the part of the Show Organizers or as creating any sine qua non conditions to the application. The Show Organizers have the faculty to move the Exhibitor to another area, without any indemnity or other damages, for any motive whatsoever. Without prejudice to his/her contractual obligations, the Exhibitor may not claim any indemnity or other damages arising from his/her failure to be admitted to said pavilions. Behaviour within the pavilions shall be regulated by specific rules drawn up by the Show Organizers.
